

PRESS RELEASE

27 January 2014

Hong Kong, 27 January 2014 – CompliancePlus Consulting Limited, a compliance consultancy based in Hong Kong, in conjunction with the University of Hong Kong, a local leading university in legal studies, is proud to announce the establishment of the CompliancePlus Consulting Limited Prize for Pro-Bono Work in Clinical Legal Education for law students in Hong Kong.

The prize will be awarded to recognise the efforts and excellence of law students who provide to the people of Hong Kong pro-bono access to justice as part of the Clinical Legal Education course of the University of Hong Kong. Whilst generosity and commitment are inherent to the legal sector, the prize seeks to further encourage such qualities at the early stage of career development by illustrating the value of such service to legal students and to improve the public's education and perception of legal services.

Josephine Chung, Director of CompliancePlus Consulting, graduate of the Faculty of Law from the University of Hong Kong, and chief proponent of the prize, was pleased with its establishment, stating "As gatekeepers to justice, legal professionals have an unequivocal duty to the people in promoting access to all. Where such access is, for whatever reason, restricted to the few, we may only become the servants of the few. CompliancePlus therefore makes the promise to support and develop the people's free access to justice."

CompliancePlus offers award-winning proactive and practical compliance solutions and recommendations to private fund managers, hedge fund managers, fund management companies and financial firms and institutions in Asia and the world to help their staff meet their compliance obligations and conform to local regulatory compliance requirements.
